NEHRU URGES TIBETANS TO BE PATIENT

By R. SAKAKOPAN
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru was quoted today as saying he would do his best to stop the fighting in Tibet.

Silun Likhungwa, a former member of the Dalai Lama's Tibetan government, headed a delegation which saw the Indian leader.

Likhungwa told a news conference the Tibetans had asked Nehru to use his good offices to arrange a cease-fire in Tibet's rebellion against the Chinese Communists and to seek restoration of Tibet's autonomy through negotiations between Tibet and Red China.

He quoted Nehru as replying: "The people of India are extremely distressed at Tibetan developments, and I shall do my best through diplomatic channels to stop the fighting."

Earlier, in speaking from the steps of his house to the delegation seated on the grass in his garden, Nehru advised the Tibetans to use wisdom and patience and "ultimate victory will be yours."

The official Peiping People's Daily quoted by Peiping radio, declared that the present goal is to "wipe out all the rebels" and establish peaceful order.

Unconfirmed reports reaching New Delhi and the border point of Kalimpong said the Red Chinese were using planes and possibly paratroopers in an effort to crush resistance by the warlike Khampa tribesmen, who have spearheaded the revolt.

The Khampa tribesmen are reported to dominate large sectors of the Kham and Amdo regions in the southeast and northeast.

The reports said the Dalai Lama, deposed by the Red Chinese as the spiritual and temporal ruler, was believed to have escaped safely to the Kham region with his aged mother, two sisters and four cabinet ministers.

Besides advising Tibetans to surrender, the Peiping People's Daily warned against foreign intervention. (Turn to Page Ten)

Liner Skipper Blames Left Turn For Collision

NEW YORK (AP)—The captain of the Grace liner Santa Rosa testified Monday that in all probability he could have avoided a collision with the tanker Vlachem by turning right, instead of left.

The international rules of the road, a navigational code, require that ships on a collision course turn to the right, starboard, so that they will pass port to port to left.

The tanker did turn right, according to the hearing.

The ships collided in fog about 22 miles off Atlantic City N. J., last Thursday morning. A gash was ripped in the liner's bow. The engine room of the tanker was hit, causing the death of four of the 39 crewmen aboard.

Liner Captain Frank S. Siwik told the Coast Guard investigating board that when it became apparent the two ships would pass close together he relied on speed to avoid collision.

After the 50-year-old captain told of ordering a left turn three minutes before the crash, he was asked:

"Instead of going left at approximately 2:57 a. m., had you gone right would you have avoided a collision?"

"In all probability," he replied.

From across the Atlantic, the British liner Queen Mary reported upon docking at Southampton that she had been hit by one wave of tremendous proportions.

Despite underwater stabilizing fins the huge vessel rolled 22 degrees in one direction and then 16 the other. Passengers and crew alike were thrown about, with several receiving cuts and bruises.

The Queen Mary's sister ship, the Queen Elizabeth, was more than 12 hours behind schedule en route to New York.

NEW YORK (AP)—A violent spring storm raged unabated over a vast area of the Atlantic today, pummeling even the biggest liners afloat. Sailing schedules were drastically slowed.

The tempest was marked by gigantic waves and winds as high as 100 miles an hour.

Seas were on such a rampage along the American Eastern seaboard that an Argentine liner, the Rio Tunuyan, had to return to New York Monday after having sailed Friday on a voyage to South America.

Climb in Traffic Deaths Disturbing

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council says it is disturbed at the upward trend in traffic deaths on the nation's highways in the first two months this year.

The council said today the death toll of 5,290 for January and February was 3 per cent more than the 5,130 reported in the same period last year. Last month's total was 2,410, an increase of 2 per cent.

Disabling injuries in January and February were estimated by the council at 200,000.

No traffic deaths were reported in February by 524 cities. The three largest were Norfolk, Va., Richmond, Va., and Wichita, Kan.

First Testimony Is Heard in Love Triangle Murder

By IRWIN J. MILLER

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The jury hears opening statements and first testimony today in the love triangle murder trial of Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas, charged with shooting her married lover after he jilted her for a younger woman.

A tedious 10 days of jury selection wound up late Monday with the seating of two alternates—both married men, as are the 12 regular jurors.

The first state's witnesses were two police officers. They were among the first at the scene after wealthy, handsome Forrest Teel was slain in his car last July 31.

Patrolman Richard Anderson was the last man to talk to Teel, who was an executive vice president of the big pharmaceutical firm of Eli Lilly & Co.

Anderson has said Teel gasped only "hospital" when Anderson told him he might die and asked him to name the person who shot him. Teel died minutes later.

The other policeman called was Lt. Cecil London of accident investigation. A possible third witness was Earl Alexander, who lives near the apartment development where the shooting occurred.

Navy Hopes Texas Has Snagged Its Last Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy hopes the old USS Texas has snagged its last ship from its underwater grave.

The old battleship was intentionally sunk in shallow water of Chesapeake Bay in 1911. Since then she has snared seven other ships in her superstructure.

Navy men worked most of last winter and used more than 7,000 pounds of TNT to blow the top off the once-proud battleship. They wanted to make sure every section of the wreck is at least 20 feet below the surface.

TRUCKS AND AUTOS FILE UP GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Four trucks and two autos piled up on the fog shrouded Pennsylvania Turnpike early today, killing an Ohio housewife and injuring at least six others.

The crash occurred at 4:45 a. m. five miles east of the New Stanton interchange in Westmoreland County.

Civilian Team Says Navy Not in Acceptable State

WASHINGTON (AP)—A civilian survey team contends the U. S. fleet is not in an acceptable state of readiness and that drastic action is needed to "reverse the mounting deterioration now in progress."

In a censored version of its report to the secretary of the Navy, the survey team said: "The primary cause of this situation is an ever widening gap between the responsibilities assigned to the Navy and the financial resources allocated to it."

The group urged a substantial increase in funds for both new ship construction and maintenance during the next fiscal year.

The censored report didn't spell out how much additional money is needed. But the Washington Post said a Navy source reported that a four-year improvement program costing more than one billion dollars has been prepared.

Any extra funds would have to be approved by Congress.

NO CLEMENCY FOR SON PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The parents of a soldier imprisoned in Czechoslovakia have received word from the Ministry of Justice in that Communist nation that there will be no clemency for their son.

By FRED B. WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence and House Democratic leaders worked to breathe new life into their ailing tax program today, but Republicans still held the cure in their hands.

Revival of the 3½ per cent sales tax proposal, key to the program, tops the agenda when the Legislature resumes sessions tonight after a 12-day Easter recess.

The bill went down to defeat 86-119 in a post-midnight session of the House March 19. Seventeen Democrats bolted party ranks in joining solid GOP opposition.

There have been no indications the Democratic rebels have changed their mind since. All but one would have to vote for the bill to provide the 106 votes necessary for its passage—assuming that the 102 Republican members would remain adamant in opposition.

At least two of the Democratic holdouts—Rep. Pat C. Trusio of Fayette County and Samuel W. Frank of Lehigh County—said their position is unchanged.

House Republican leaders said they will not oppose a motion to revive the bill but they refused in advance of a party caucus later today to comment on the chances the sales tax rate increase will receive enough GOP votes to make up for Democratic defections.

The governor was expected to talk to several of the Democratic holdouts before the session in an effort to reduce his own party's opposition to the measure.

Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, said the hard core of that opposition "actually is less than 10 lawmakers."

McCann said he was hopeful the bill would pass on the second try. He declined to make any predictions on whether the GOP will provide the necessary votes to pass it. "I'm sure they will consider providing votes," he said.

Opposition to the sales tax measure has centered on provisions to extend it to over-the-bar drinks and to automobile trade-ins.

'Magic Bullet' Unveiled Weapon Against Cancer

BOSTON (AP)—A "magic bullet" for cancer—a drug that would kill or check the growth of cancerous cells—was foreseen today by Dr. Charles S. Cameron, dean of Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia.

He said a newly developed drug cured two hamsters who some months ago had "full-blown active growing cancers."

In a speech prepared for a luncheon opening the 1959 crusade of the American Cancer Society in Massachusetts, Dr. Cameron said: "The principle of the magic bullet for cancer, it seems to me, has been established as reasonable by this demonstration."

Four Hurt When Automobile Rams Tidoute House

Driver of a car which rammed into a Tidoute home late last evening has not been determined by investigating police today as the four occupants of the vehicle remain in a "bad" condition in Warren General Hospital.

Injured in the mishap were: Leland Shorts, Jr., 25, 1620 Pennsylvania avenue east; Jack Anderson, 22, of 1120 Pennsylvania avenue east; Robert Anderson, 25, of RD 1 Kane, a brother of Jack Anderson; and 18-year-old Esther Johnson, Tidoute.

All four received multiple injuries, including possible concussions to two. Miss Johnson is believed to have sustained a fractured skull. Only injuries listed by the hospital today were: R. Anderson, laceration of face; Johnson, lacerated left ear; J. Anderson, fractured left leg; and Shorts, lacerated left eyebrow.

Two of the victims were thought to be in "serious" condition today.

According to the report, the car involved in the accident belonged to Shorts. It was a complete loss.

The vehicle went out of control on steep Babylon Hill leading out of Tidoute (south) on the Enterprise Road about 10:20. The car snapped off a small tree and then rammed the home, owned by Mrs. Edna Benner.

The victims were rushed to Warren General Hospital by Sage ambulance of Tidoute. Complete details are expected either later today or tomorrow on further particulars concerning the wreck when conditions of the four improve. Police have been unable to question them.

Three Children Burn To Death in Newark

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Three children were burned to death in their sleep today as flames swept through their apartment bedroom.

Dead were Ronald J. Donaldson, 3, his sister, Paulette, 6 months, both 410 Halsey st.; and their uncle, Robert Rodgers, 12, of 91 S. 12th st., who was visiting them.

All were Negroes. Firemen blamed the blaze on a defective oil burner.

Brenda Rodgers, 10, Robert's sister, managed to flee the room to safety. She was unhurt.

New Record Set in Cigarette Smoking

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans smoked a new record last year by smoking cigarettes at the rate of 185 packs for every person 15 years of age and older.

The Agriculture Department said Monday last year's cigarette output was 470 billion—up 6 per cent from the 1957 record.

Last year's cost to smokers: $5,700,000,000. Federal, state and local tax net: $2,440,000,000.

Sheffield Pupils Furnish 100 Paddles To Help Curb Quaker City Delinquency

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—In rural Sheffield, in the heart of the vast Allegheny National Forest, depriving a boy of his guns is something like depriving Huckleberry Finn of a raft to explore the Mississippi River.

For them, state Senate bill 412, which says people under 21 can't own firearms, is no solution to juvenile delinquency. For them, the bill, if passed, would mean no more hunting in the forest surrounding their northwestern Pennsylvania town, and no more target shooting contests.

They blame Philadelphia, many miles away.

They have read in their newspapers of many crimes and even killings, committed here by teenagers with guns.

After the bill was introduced in the current session of the Legislature, the 20 boys in the junior class discussed with game wardens and teachers what could be done to dramatize their side of the coin.

Monday, the Philadelphia Inquirer received by mail 100 stout wooden spanking paddles with this letter from Robert Anderson, 17:

"We like the sports of hunting and target shooting and engage in them carefully and sanely. All of the fellows in my class own one or more firearms and do not want to lose them because some remote city has a delinquency problem."

General Assembly In Virginia May Enact Race Plan

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginia's General Assembly begins consideration today of new legal lines of defense against the spread of racial integration in public schools.

It appeared the program the Assembly will be asked to enact will add up to a freedom-of-choice plan as successor to the now-defunct massive resistance program which collapsed in state and federal courts.

The phrase "freedom of choice," said a source close to Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr., was chosen because the plan may offer a community or an individual the choice between state-aided private schooling or integrated public schooling.

A 40-member legislative commission has kept its deliberations secret. The Assembly meeting is a resumption of the special school session of January 28 called after the courts invalidated laws which had held the school segregation line since the Supreme Court's 1954 decision on the subject.

BISHOP IS SPEAKER PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Most Reverend John J. Wright, new bishop of the Pittsburgh Roman Catholic Diocese, says a quickened appreciation of the "common good" would turn the tide against class and group conflict.

Bishop Wright spoke Monday to more than 300 business and civic leaders at a luncheon of the Pittsburgh Press Club.

Umbrellas Loaned To Railroad Patrons

NEW YORK (AP)—The Long Island Rail Road will lend umbrellas to commuters.

The railroad said the umbrellas will be left at transfer stations for commuters to borrow on rainy days and return on an honor basis.

The railroad isn't taking a very big financial risk in embarking on the program. It's using umbrellas left on trains by absent-minded passengers.

U. S. Grand Jury Probes Election In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A U. S. grand jury today begins an examination of ballots cast in last year's election in which Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark) unseated veteran congressman Brooks Hays.

The jury last week opened an investigation of possible federal law violations in the victory of Alford, who ran as a write-in candidate, over Hays, the Democratic nominee, in the November general election. Alford, a segregationist, criticized Hays' moderate racial stand.

Alford won by 1,200 votes in Arkansas' 5th District. Since then he has been seated as a Democrat.

After hearing several witnesses on March 23, the grand jury asked U. S. Dist. Judge J. Smith Henley to impound all ballots and related records in the six-county 5th District. Henley issued the order.

The grand jury inquiry followed an investigation by the FBI on two specific complaints to the Justice Department. One of these charged that in certain precincts more ballots were counted than there were persons registered to vote. The second alleged that anonymous campaign literature, prohibited by federal statutes, was circulated.

State Aid Money Used To Ease Unemployment

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania communities waited today for 27 million dollars in state aid, much more than they normally would get at this time. The money is to ease unemployment.

Gov. Lawrence Monday directed that 90 per cent of the annual subsidies to municipalities for construction and maintenance be distributed Wednesday. Normally, the allocation is 50 per cent every six months.

MINISTERS ARE EXPECTED TO ORGANIZE FOR UNITED FRONT ON BERLIN ISSUE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Big Three foreign ministers today open a two-day strategy meeting they hope will move them three-fourths of the way toward the united front they need before negotiating with the Soviets.

They are expected to give quick approval to German proposals already drafted by a team of allied working experts during the past month. In a second meeting this afternoon at the State Department they are to review the German outlook with West Germany's Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter Jr., substituting for ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, is to represent the United States.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, a veteran of many diplomatic conferences, is to attend along with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, another newcomer to such meetings.

Leaving London Monday night, Lloyd pictured the meeting as an opportunity to coordinate Allied policy. He said he anticipated discussing problems fully and frankly.

The result of the sessions are to be made known to the full 15-nation Atlantic Pact Council which begins a 10th anniversary meeting here Thursday. The Berlin crisis promises to be the main worry at this three-day conference.

Some British authorities are talking privately of negotiating an international status for West Berlin along with promise to curb the anti-Soviet tone of the West Berlin radio.

But American, French and West German authorities are cool to this idea. About the only basis for a combined Western approach appears to be Secretary Dulles' suggestion that the Allies allow East Germans to take over some Soviet responsibilities provided the Soviets openly acknowledge them as their "agents."

The Soviets have given no sign that such an offer would be satisfactory.

Drivers From Penn'a Nabbed in New Jersey

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Pennsylvania drivers swelled last week's mandatory license revocation tally, Atty. Gen. David D. Furman has announced.

State police and motor vehicle inspectors caught 611 motorists for going 60 m.p.h. on non-toll roads and 70 m.p.h. on the N.J. Turnpike and Garden State Parkway.

Almost the entire increase from the 525 caught in the week before was due to Pennsylvania motorists—182 were nabbed as compared with 101 the previous week. Only 121 New Jerseyans were arrested.

Pennsylvania lawmakers have charged that New Jersey police are discriminating against drivers from that state. New Jersey authorities have denied any discrimination.

STICKER DEADLINE HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania motorists will need 1959 automobile license stickers in order to operate cars after midnight tonight.

The State Revenue Department has reminded drivers that anyone caught operating a motor vehicle without one of the reflectorized stickers after the deadline will be subject to a $1 fine.

Dulles Resting in Island Retreat Near Palm Beach

JUPITER ISLAND, Fla. (AP)—John Foster Dulles, fighting against cancer, rested at this millionaire's island retreat today.

Dulles, 71, is staying at the home of Under Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon, 20 miles from West Palm Beach.

Dulles arrived Monday. He said he felt "pretty good" as he left Washington in the presidential plane Columbine III.

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said at Washington he understands Dulles will decide in Florida whether he feels well enough to step once again into the job as this country's foreign policy chief.

Dulles will not return to Washington for further medical tests, White said. Capt. Edward J. Kamin II, an Army internal medicine specialist, accompanied Dulles here with Mrs. Dulles.

SCHOOL IS MOVED
Through a reporter's error it was erroneously stated last week that students from Washington School at Tiona had been moved to a new building. The school is still in the old building and a special class at the institute of learning invited fifth graders to join them for the rail adventure. A card from Edith Chamberlain, special grade teacher advises that Robert Jones, and supervising principal Thomas Barratt met the group and transported them safely back to Sheffield in the largest school bus.

An old saying "Easter time is the time for eggs" has recently been found wanting in truth. Last Saturday before Easter was definitely not the time for eggs as far as hunting them was concerned. As previously stated over 700 prizes will be available to kids age 3 to 10 years. Legions are reminded to be at the field at 1:00 p. m. to hide the chocolate eggs.

Conelrad Tests Are Planned April 17

Television viewers in this section are advised that plans for an April 17 Conelrad test were made final this week after FCC's commander and top staff members met with industry's advisory committee, headed by CBS's Davidson Vorhes, recently.

The drill will run at 11:30 a. m. EST with about 1200 participating AM stations remaining on the air, while all TV, FM and non-participating AM's will go off.

Each station leaving the air is to announce—"This station now leaves the air to cooperate with the United States government in conducting a Conelrad drill. Please tune your radio to 640 or 1240 kc for a special Civil Defense program. Normal broadcasting will be resumed in approximately 30 minutes."

Noting one difference from previous tests, it is reminded that Conelrad stations in each "cluster" will remain on the air 3 to 5 minutes instead of 30 seconds. The drill is part of "Operation Alert 1959" to be conducted by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization. Information concerning the Conelrad drill is submitted by Warren Television Corporation.

Jaycee's Auction Committee Seeks Aid of Everyone

Chairman Bob Brown stated today that his Public Auction committee has almost completed the first phase necessary to insure a successful auction. This phase is a personal visit by a member of the Jaycees to all local merchants asking for their cooperation. The merchants are being asked to donate any merchandise they have available for the auction. The merchants who have not been contacted yet will receive a visit in the next few days from a Jaycee.

The second phase of the project will be completed on Saturday, April 4, when teams of Jaycees and trucks will pick up all merchandise donated by the merchants and local residents. All area residents are reminded to check their attics and cellars for useable furniture and other saleable items that the Jaycees may auction off. Arrangements for the pick-up can be made by calling 4435-J or 1170, giving your name, address and the item to be donated.

One of the area's most successful auctioneers, Chuck Cummings, of Corry, will be on hand to run the auction. Residents who have attended the auctions at the Merchant's Outlet in Tiona and the Auto Auction in Corry know that besides being a top notch auctioneer, Mr. Cummings is a real showman and will entertain all who attend.

Remember, the Jaycee Public Auction will be held on Saturday, April 11, starting at 1:00 p. m. and all are urged to attend and take the opportunity to bid on the new and used merchandise.

Bar Owner Stages Fashion Show To Stimulate Trade

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three hundred lugeyed customers, 30 newsmen and photographers, a bail bondsman, a lawyer and cops in plain clothes were the jury. The defendant? A lingerie show in "financial district bar and restaurant, with four shapely models. The verdict? Legally acceptable.

The proprietor, Robert P. Bryant, initiated the fashion show to stimulate his Tiki Bob's luncheon business. Police Chief Thomas Cahill threatened to close the establishment.

The show went on as scheduled Monday. Tiki Bob, smiling at the standing room only crowd, stood by with his attorney and a bondsman, who held a $20,000 bail bond at the ready.

The young ladies wore baby doll hip-length pajamas and nebulous nighties. Afterward, Chief Cahill announced his agents reported it was all morally okay. But he said he would keep a close watch on the show.

Oddities in the News

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A prisoner sprinted madly for freedom but an 82-year-old former Texas Ranger dropped him calmly with a single slug from his six-shooter Monday.

"I called twice for him to stop but he just kept running, so I fired," said Dep. Sheriff John Graves. "I hit him about two inches from where I wanted to. Just wanted to wing him."

Hamilton McCampbell Jr., 32, was hospitalized with a slug in the right shoulder. He was hit from 50 paces.

McCampbell had been sentenced to 10 years for auto theft.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas legislators don't want state officials and employees driving around in high-powered, air-conditioned cars bought with tax money.

The fine print of the 308-page appropriations bill laid before the House today includes a provision that State Highway Department cars may not have eight cylinders, automatic transmissions or air conditioning.

ALICE, Tex. (AP)—A green trading stamp was attached to letters mailed to members of First Baptist church here by T. G. Peters, superintendent of the church school.

Come to Sunday school, he told the congregation members, and they would get two more green stamps.

Attendance was up substantially next Sunday.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Vivian Vance, 45, who plays the strong-minded wife as Ethel in TV's "I Love Lucy," is described as a cruel wife in real life by actor Philip N. Ober, 50.

Ober sued for divorce Monday, declaring Miss Vance has treated him in a cruel and inhuman manner and caused him great mental anguish.

The couple married Aug. 18, 1941, at Marblehead, Mass., and separated last Feb. 6.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—A dozen years they've worked on it — off and on. Now it's finished. But alas, the blooming thing's too big for the door.

Not a boat. Not a plane. Not the work of home craftsmen but of experts, it stands, six feet tall, as fine a dwarf elephant as anybody ever saw.

It was pieced together at the Museum of Natural History from hundreds of delicate bones out of 14 fossilized elephants.

Ease it through the door to an exhibit hall? Impossible, says Dr. P. C. Orr, curator. It won't fit. The slightest pressure and it would shatter into fragments.

Now what? That's right, Orr says — now what?

It is said that Jenny Lind broke her contract with P. T. Barnum because he compelled her to sing one concert in a stable. This was the New National Theater, which had been used for a circus shortly before her concert.

Way Is Cleared For Addition To Pleasant School

Action by the State Department of Public Instruction cleared the way for Pleasant Township School District, to award contracts last evening for construction of an addition to Pleasant Elementary school.

The project, calling for three class rooms; one multi-purpose room; one kitchen and one bus garage plus remodeling of the existing building, will probably reach the $300,000 mark. Contracts for construction signed last night include: General Construction, Ludwig Peterson, Warren, $159,000; Electrical work, Bevevine Electric Co., $20,500; Plumbing, McGinty and Johnson, Jamestown, $28,518; Heating and Ventilating, Sans Corporation, Jamestown, $35,967.

The school district plans to finance construction of the school addition by issuing municipality authority bonds through Moore, Leonard and Lynch, Pittsburgh bonding house. Beck and Tinkham, architects of Warren and Jamestown, are handling the project with Richard A. Leuthold named attorney.

Authority members are G. Weston Ensworth, chairman; Gilbert W. Buerkle, J. A. Vermilyea, Glen C. Elliot and Floyd Nollinger.

Pleasant elementary school is located on McKinley avenue. The aforementioned multi-purpose room will be used for play, assembly and cafeteria. It is anticipated that the construction will be completed by September of 1960.

According to John E. Franson, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest, one of Mr. Smith's most remarkable accomplishments was the safety record of but two lost-time accidents in just under twelve years achieved under his direction.

A farewell party is planned for Mr. Smith at the American Legion Clubhouse on Friday, April 10.

Forestry Engineer Is Retiring After 26 Years Service

Leslie P. Smith, above, Forest Engineer of the Allegheny National Forest and widely known throughout this area, is retiring effective March 31 after more than 26 years with the Forest Service.

Mr. Smith is a native of Warren, a veteran of World War I, and had wide experience as an engineer with the Pennsylvania Dept. of Highways, the Erie Railroad Co., and privately before joining the U. S. Forest Service in 1913. He was with the Allegheny National Forest during the period of the Civilian Conservation Corps which built so many of the structures still in use. As Forest Engineer he was responsible for the construction of many miles of road during his career. The engineering at many of the best known areas on the Allegheny National Forest—Beaver Meadows, Loleta, Twin Lakes, Cornplanter Organization Camp, and Farnsworth Fish Rearing Station among others, was his responsibility.

According to John E. Franson, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest, one of Mr. Smith's most remarkable accomplishments was the safety record of but two lost-time accidents in just under twelve years achieved under his direction.

A farewell party is planned for Mr. Smith at the American Legion Clubhouse on Friday, April 10.

Dads, Lads and Leaders on Trip To Cornplanter

Over 80 boys, dads and YMCA leaders traveled by car Saturday to Camp Cornplanter, site for the YMCA 1959 summer camp. Upon arrival the boys took on exploratory hike of the premises and played a score of games.

Following the tour of the grounds, the group divided into two sections—boys aged eight and nine, and boys aged ten, eleven and twelve. The younger group the "English Bulldog" and "Capture the Flag." Highlight of the period was a tug-of-war, each group competing with itself. This popular contest was made possible by donation of a rope by Robert Anstadt, of the Bell Telephone Company.

At 11 o'clock the boys traveled back to Warren for a free, tasty lunch at the YMCA.

Following the meal, Youth Director Jeff Riedel introduced Mrs. Minnie Vicini, camp nurse in 1957 and 1958, who will also be the nurse for "Y" camp this summer, and William Peterson, president of Warren Gra-Y Council.

Charles Merroth, chairman of the YMCA camp committee, then outlined plans for the 1959 camp season, and announced dates—the third week in July, July 19 through 25, also giving tentative indication of the registration fee. It was also announced each boy registering another boy by June 1 will be given an official camp T-shirt. Boys may start registering for "Y" camp at once at the main desk at the YMC.

Additional excursions to Camp Cornplanter have been scheduled May 9 and June 20. Anyone who desires further details may contact the youth director at the "Y", phone 1000.

In certain rubber bridge games a part score can be worth its weight in gold.

Take away the East-West part score and South would never consider a vulnerable overcall of an opening no-trump. As it was he invited the under-taker in and West obliged by doubling.

North considered running out to three diamonds but quite properly feared that he would be leaping from the frying pan right into the fire, anyway, he held two trumps and an outside ace for his partner.

Needless to say, the slaughter was terrific. West opened the six of diamonds. East won and led the six of spades. South played the eight. West won with the nine and returned the three.

South was in with the king and for want of anything better to do led a low heart. West went up with the queen and played the king which held the trick.

A third heart lead went to East's ace and he led the jack of clubs. This defense held South to four tricks and the part-score had produced 1,100 points and was still there.

Speeding and Tired Drivers Blamed for Traffic Deaths

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—The head of Gov. Lawrence's Traffic Safety Council today partially attributed the record high 31 Pennsylvania traffic deaths during the Easter weekend to over-speeding and tired drivers.

"People on these weekend trips and those just driving around on holiday weekends seem to push it too much from the standpoint of under-resting and over-speeding," said Amos Neyhart.

Neyhart, a professor at Pennsylvania State University and also a high ranking member of several national traffic organizations, said the death tolls can be cut down only by more driver education and tougher traffic laws.

"From what I can see of most of the fatalities during the Easter drivers involved were either groggy from lack of sleep or over eating or they were driving too fast," Neyhart explained.

He said he long has advocated that no driver should remain behind the wheel of a car consecutively for more than two hours without stopping the vehicle for a short spell to rest his eyes and exercise.

Asked if Gov. Lawrence's proposed stiffening of traffic laws would aid in cutting down traffic fatalities, Neyhart said: "I back the governor 100 percent in his program because I believe it will be a just one and not a program aimed at hampering on every fellow just because his steps over the limit by a mile an hour for a second."

Lawrence proposed wide-sweeping changes in the present law designed to punish the offender more severely.

Atomic Scientists Report Odd-Balls Among Meteorites

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Evidence of odd-balls among the meteorites from outer space — fancy enough to be mistaken for machined iron — was reported today by two atomic scientists.

Identification of one such strange object — differing somewhat from all other known meteorites — was reported to a meeting of the American Physical Society, convened at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The report cleared up one puzzle that has plagued scientists for 40 years. However, it left unanswered how this object, and possibly others like it still undiscovered, took on features differing from those of run-of-the-mill meteorites that sometimes reach the earth.

Physicists David Fisher and Olivier A. Schaeffer said the object they studied was a chunk of iron found imbedded in the soil of Washington County, Colorado, away back in 1916.

Ever since its discovery, they said, there has been uncertainty as to whether it was an iron meteorite — or just a chunk of forged discarded by some craftsman of the past.

For one thing, the object's overall appearance suggested it "might have been machined."

The researchers — both of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, N.Y. — said they recently solved the riddle by applying a finding made several years ago by scientists in several countries.

This was the discovery that all meteorites, as they hurtled through space, acquire quantities of gaseous helium—the latter being produced by the action of cosmic rays on the material of the meteorite.

While the researchers voiced certainty that the Colorado specimen is meteoric, they offered no immediate explanation for its variance in structure from all other iron meteorites that occasionally reach the earth from outer space.

Authorities estimate that weasels kill millions of rats and mice each year.

Odd-Looking Water Balloon Ready for Series of Dives

By RALPH DIGHTON
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A weird-looking "water balloon" will begin a series of dives in about two weeks that eventually may take it into ocean depths man has never seen before.

The bathyscaphe Trieste, recently purchased by the Navy for $200,000 from designer Auguste Piccard, already has descended nearly 12,000 feet in the Mediterranean. With changes now being made, it will be capable of diving into the Pacific's deepest trenches — almost seven miles below the surface.

The Trieste took two short dives off San Diego in December.

Observers said the bathyscaphe experiment is the Navy's first big move in developing deep-water submarines. Today's subs cannot operate much below 750 feet, yet 90 per cent of the ocean lies beyond that level.

On April 4 Piccard's son Jacques will arrive at the Navy Electronics Laboratory here to act as consultant in the Trieste's new adventures.

By April 10 the Trieste is expected to be ready for launching again and three days later is scheduled to begin a two-month program of dives that will take it down to 4,000 feet. That's as deep as nearby coastal waters go.

Late this summer a mother ship will carry the Trieste to Hawaii for dives that will equal or better her old record of 12,000 feet.

The bathyscaphe is designed to carry two men, in a six-foot sphere suspended below a 50-foot-long tank which bears a stubby resemblance to a conventional submarine.

The steel tank, filled with gasoline, acts as a balloon to carry the sphere up and down. The tank walls are only one-fifth of an inch thick—just strong enough to withstand rough waves at the surface. The gasoline, being lighter than water, gives the craft buoyancy.

ALLEGHANY GAS WELL
Bradford Era: The exploitation of the Alleghany State Park natural gas pool has sustained a setback with the failure of the latest well, drilled March 3. A local producing source confirmed over the weekend that the gas flow had virtually stopped, and that water had appeared. The well was drilled on the Hogan farm in the Thunder Rocks area of the nearby New York State recreational area. The well was reported abandoned. The well was brought in by Gerge Kroh, local oil-gas operator and associates, who, at the time, called it "the first apparently successful" producer in that area of the park. Mr. Kroh said he and the group had leased an "assembled block of approximately 4,000 acres in this immediate area." It was not known whether or when exploration would continue in the block. Initial open flow of the well was estimated at 10-million cubic feet after drilling tapped Omskany sand at approximately 4,000 feet. Contractor on the job was Freeman and Cotton, Bradford.

Indians Discuss Organizing Own United Nations

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The vanishing American is talking about forming an Indian United Nations.

Thirty-six chiefs and braves claiming to represent some 180,000 North American Indians discussed this Sunday on the home grounds of Florida's Miccosukee Seminoles.

They said the move to unify all Indians of North, Central and South America was proposed to stop "the encroachment and aggression against Indians and the assimilation by the U. S. Indian Bureau and the Canadian minister of citizenship and immigration."

The get-together, 30 miles west of Miami in the Everglades, included delegations from the Six Nations of the Iroquois, as well as the Delaware, Pottawamie, Chippewas, Plutes, Mamis, Utes, Hopis and Blackfoot.

There were many speeches, mostly critical of white civilization and government "beating around the bush."

TUESDAY, MARCH 31, 1959

OTHER SIDE OF THE STORY
A famous entertainer materialized on the television screen the other night and began a monologue that indicated he was speaking on behalf of the Internal Revenue Service. The entertainer advised viewers to fill out their income tax forms carefully and warned that the Government now possesses vigilant machinery that can readily smoke out a suspicious 1040.
The celebrity then went on to rhapsodize about the privilege of paying taxes and how wonderful it is to live in a country where that privilege can be exercised so rigorously. We should be happy, the man said, to live in America and we should pay the price of that residence with a smile.
Well, it's difficult to quarrel with a patriotic theme and we don't intend to. But throughout his pitch the entertainer made no mention of the size of the tax rates, the unwieldy structure of the entire tax system, and the often wasteful and extravagant way in which tax dollars are spent.
And with the Federal Communications Commission doing such a diligent job these days, the television networks better watch out. Seventy-five million American taxpayers might demand equal time.

The Public Auction Committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is leaving nothing undone to assure the success of the project which is scheduled for Saturday, April 11, starting at one o'clock in the afternoon at Beaty Cafeteria. This includes the securing of one of the area's most successful auctioneers, Chuck Cummings, of Corry, who will be on hand to conduct the sales. He is a real showman, which guarantees entertainment of a high calibre for all attending.

A group of Junior Class boys at the Sheffield High School earned themselves and their community some excellent publicity when they sent to a Philadelphia paper 100 spanking paddles designated for liberal use in doing something about juvenile delinquency in the Quaker City. It was an unusual stunt for which they deserve all the praise they are receiving.

WASHINGTON (AP)—War with the Soviet Union looks a long way off.
That seems the sensible interpretation to put on hitherto secret testimony of American military leaders before a committee of Congress.
For months there has been deep concern here and abroad as to whether the Berlin crisis might lead to conflict with the Soviet Union.
But the Joint Chiefs of Staff painted for the House Appropriations Committee in secret a picture of such overwhelming American power that the U.S.S.R. would look crazy doing anything to cause a war if—
There are a couple of big "ifs." The Soviets would be crazy to start a war if they are as convinced of America's military power as are the joint chiefs and if no one in the Soviet Union loses his head in a way that would cause war.
The chiefs' testimony after security censoring, was released in part Monday. It can be summed up this way: The U.S.S.R. would be flattened by America's nuclear bombs if war started.
The chiefs said American military power—built around long-range bombers, missiles and missile-launching submarines—is growing at a pace to deter any Soviet military adventure in the future.
The joint chiefs didn't discount the Soviet Union's ability to have wide-ranging missiles in the future but right now they said any Soviet nuclear attack would have to be done almost entirely with manned bombers.
Defense Secretary Neil McElroy backed up the chiefs, said this country's power is enough to destroy the Soviet Union if it's attacked.
Then he predicted: "We believe that our planned military programs will keep us, as we are now, ahead of the Soviet Union in overall strength at any projected point in the future."

Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex)—chairman of the subcommittee which heard the military leaders—added: "I think it is important for everybody to know that we have a terrific capability for launching an unstoppable counter-offensive if attacked."
McElroy's predictions—plus the statements by the chiefs—by Mahon—did more than reassure those who might have been worrying about war with the Soviet Union any time soon.
They also fired some other fish for the Eisenhower administration by taking some of the steam out of Senate Democrats' arguments that President Eisenhower, in his search for economy, is putting too little money into defense and that in a short time he will be at a missile disadvantage with the U.S.S.R.
Still, all these self-confident statements may make new difficulties for the administration in its efforts to seek a peaceful solution with the Soviet Union over the Berlin crisis which the Soviets created.
There is already a lot of talk in the air about making concessions to the Soviets to pacify them in their demands that the Western Allies get their troops out of West Berlin.
There are plenty of opponents of concessions to the Soviets and they may well ask now if American military power is so overwhelming, how can the administration justify any concessions to the Soviets, if concessions are made?
The testimony, perhaps only by coincidence, was made public just as the representatives of America's 14 allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization were coming here to discuss the Berlin situation.
The smaller West European nations understandably may have been jittery about the possibility of war with the Soviet Union. The testimony of the chiefs must have had some reassuring effect on them.

Here and There
It has long been a prime concern of teachers and parents (at least some) that student and good grades rarely mix. Well, says an editorial in "The Etowahian" student paper at Elizabethtown College. A survey conducted recently by an Idaho high school principal seems to bear out this feeling. In his report, which covered a four-year period, he made the following observations: (1) No student who maintained an "A" average had the use of a car. Only 15 per cent of the "B" students did. (2) Forty-one per cent of the "C" students owned cars. (3) Of the "D" students, 71 per cent had cars. (4) Of those who failed completely or quit school, 83 per cent had free access to cars during school terms. In this day and age, the argument that cars are necessities is often heard. And its probably a legitimate argument, if qualified. Non-excessive use of cars will probably not harm a student's academic achievements. However, this survey underlines the policy now in effect here at Elizabethtown, where freshmen and students on academic probation are denied the use of cars unless they are commuting students. It is our belief that the Administration's thoughts on cars for fresh and weak students are entirely valid.

Foreign Ministers Inherit Long History of Stalemates
By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The Council of Foreign Ministers convening May 11 to consider the Berlin situation in preparation for the summit conference later this summer will be the first such meeting attended by the Russians in four years.
You can get arguments either way that this foreign ministers' meeting will be a waste of time or serve a useful purpose. But that generality applies equally to all CFM meetings in the past. Some were good. Others complete busts.
The first wartime foreign ministers' meeting was held in Moscow, October, 1943. The late Cordell Hull, Anthony Eden and V. M. Molotov were principals.
They held 12 sessions in which it was agreed to form a United Nations organization, destroy Nazism and Fascism, punish war criminals and liberate Austria.
This talk was followed by the Dumbarton Oaks conference in Washington, October, 1944, in which first draft of the United Nations Charter was written—an auspicious beginning.
The "Council" of Foreign Ministers did not come into being as a formal organization until a year later. It was created by the four-power Potsdam conference. The council's assignment from the heads of government was to work out peace treaties with Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Finland and Italy.
IN THE NEXT TWO YEARS the council held six sessions to give directions to the deputies and technical experts who did the actual negotiating and drafting.
London—Sept. 11, Oct. 2, 1945—made a start on terms of the Italian treaty, but did little beyond this.
Moscow—Dec. 16-26, 1945—ended in disagreement.
Paris—April 25-May 15, 1946—Broke up over Russian demand for 100-million-dollar reparations from Italy.
Paris—June 25-July 12, 1946. Continuation of previous session. Ended in a call for a peace conference to make treaties with all Axis powers except Germany and Japan. This conference met in Paris, July 29, 1946.
New York—Nov. 4-Dec. 11, 1946. Treaties with Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Italy and Romania approved in connection with meeting of U.N. General Assembly.
IN OFFICIAL RECORDS these sessions are listed as the first three meetings of the council. The Moscow meetings are not counted and the two Paris meetings are considered one.
Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was U.S. representative at these sessions. They are memorable now in that Byrnes, at Paris, offered the Russians a 25-year treaty guaranteeing the disarmament of Germany.
If the Russians had accepted this foolish offer, the U.S. and western European powers would be in a bad fix today. But the Russians turned it down. In view of the creation of North Atlantic Treaty Organization and rearmament of West Germany, the Reds would grab it if they could get it now.
A SEVEN-WEEK SESSION of the Council of Foreign Ministers—its longest—was held in Moscow, March 10-April 24, 1947. It was another futile effort to work out peace treaties for Germany and Austria.
Gen. George C. Marshall, as U.S. secretary of state, was American representative. He gave up when he considered further negotiation useless. This is officially counted as the fourth CFM meeting.
A fifth session in London, Nov. 25-Dec. 15, 1947, was no more successful. And that ended the work of the Council of Foreign Ministers for two years.

BACK TO THE SIMPLE LIFE
After an attack of coronary thrombosis, many victims are comfortable within three or four days. They look well but six weeks are needed for the old ticker to heal completely.
There is no way to hasten the process and the individual takes his life in his hands when he becomes active, just because he feels like a million bucks. It is equally dangerous to be swayed by remarks from visitors that there must not have been much wrong in the first place.
To re-emphasize the point: It takes six weeks for the heart to heal after an attack of coronary thrombosis. Another six weeks may elapse before general strength is regained. Unless symptoms persist, there is no reason to remain an invalid after this time. When the damaged heart muscle is replaced by scar tissue, remaining in bed or sitting in a chair most of the time will not bring additional improvement.
Prolonged convalescence may be harmful when it prevents the remainder of the heart from regaining its strength and tone. Exceptions occur, especially when the organ has been damaged to such an extent that the muscle no longer is efficient. Chest pain and shortness of breath occur on exertion.
On the other hand, when healing is complete, the structure is just as good as it was before the attack occurred. The only trouble is that the cause of the original heart attack still exists. For this reason, after recovery from coronary thrombosis, many adjustments must be made. This includes eliminating the influences and factors that may have precipitated or contributed to the heart attack.
This may mean a new way of living and working. Retirement seldom is the answer, unless the victim has something to retire to. Medication must be taken according to directions, particularly if an anti-coagulant has been prescribed to keep the blood from clotting in the coronary arteries. Overexertion is taboo.

NERVOUS RASH

REPLY
Have faith in your physician or ask for a consultation, preferably with a dermatologist. If the diagnosis is correct, a psychiatrist may be needed unless you find out and eliminate what is bothering you.

COUGHING HUSBAND
M. M. N. writes: My husband coughs most of the time, claiming it is due to dry throat. Is there something he can do about it?
REPLY
If dryness is responsible, sucking on a lozenge or hard candy will give relief. But he should have his throat examined and chest X-rayed because there are many other causes of cough.

STRAINED HEART
W. R. writes: What makes the heart enlarge?
REPLY
Strain from high blood pressure or an acquired or congenital defect. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on enlarged heart.

STIMULATING PILLS
S. W. writes: Can you explain the reason why I become so nervous when I take my reducing pills?
REPLY
Because the pills are stimulants that make you keyed up and nervous.

NEW YORK (AP)—Maybe inflation has a different meaning on Main street than it has in Congress.
The congressional dispute over whether a new federal budget deficit would lead to more inflation, or whether it would just increase the rate of the nation's economic growth is enlivened today with this report from Minnesota: Many million Americans don't really want inflation stopped.
This report is based on interviews with a wide sampling of citizens over a long period by the Family Economic Bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. of Minneapolis.
It says although they complain about rising prices, many citizens think that monetary inflation, instead of being one of the causes of the high cost of living, is actually the measure of prosperous times.
The congressional dispute is along political lines.
Monetary conservatives hold that a balanced budget would keep the Treasury from feeding inflationary fires by swelling the supply of money and credit through its increased borrowing.
Spenders argue that the important thing is to stimulate the economy — as federal spending tends to do. This would make more jobs and presumably more profits and personal income on which to levy taxes. Then the Treasury would take in more and need to borrow less.

But outside Congress most citizens are interested primarily in two other aspects: to preserve or raise their standards of living; to halt the increase in prices they must pay for goods and services.
The Family Economics Bureau says many Americans confuse their rising standard of living with monetary inflation.
Since 1939, the average American standard of living has gone up about 50 per cent. But this, the bureau says, isn't because there are four times as many dollars in circulation, but because production of goods and services has gone up about 50 per cent for each American consumer.
We have twice as many goods and services to buy today as in 1939, but we have four times as much money in circulation. The bureau holds that since there are now twice as many dollars bid for each unit of goods, the dollar will buy only half as much goods. This, it says, is how inflation has doubled prices.
Inflation thus distorts the appearance of prosperity while threatening in time to undermine it.

Without These Six Themes What Would Girls Do?

What would we women talk about if we couldn't talk about—Our children. They are a never-ending source of conversation for us from the moment they are born until they become parents and we can start talking about our grandchildren.

Our husbands. Whether we are complaining about their faults or bragging about their good qualities or quoting their opinions we can always talk about our husbands.

Our houses. What we are doing to our homes, what we are planning to do to them, and what taking care of them is doing to us can always be used to start a conversation with another woman.

Our diets. I haven't been in a group of women in years that somewhere along the line some woman didn't mention her diet and by so doing get half of the other women present to discussing their diets.

Clothes. If she's old enough to talk, a woman is old enough to talk about clothes, and she never gets too old to have something to say about the latest fashions.

Parties. One of the reasons women love to go to parties is that they like to discuss them afterward. That's why when women go to a party they make mental notes of everyone present, what all the women are wearing and what the hostess serves in the way of food. You can't make much conversation out of a party unless you can remember such details as these.

If you think we women have a lot more to talk about these days than these six overworked subjects, just listen next time you are in a group of women. Chances are all six topics will be introduced and they'll start more general conversation than any weighty subject brought up. Because they are topics all women have something to say about.

The Mature Parent

Parent Can Strike Spark In Explosive Offspring

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

In the 6th grade cloakroom Fran was tying her scarf under her chin when her friend Irma said, "Wait for me and I'll walk you home."

As usual Fran said "O.K." She waited for Irma to get into her coat, tie her scarf, have a final talk with Miss Wells about her lost history book. But as they were walking down their school's front steps, another girl rushed up to them. Ignoring Fran, she said to Irma, "Walk me home, I'll play you that new Pat Boone record I was telling you about."

And as usual Irma discarded the arrangement she'd made with Fran to make the more interesting one with someone else. Not looking at Fran, she said, "So long. I gotta go now," and ran off down the steps with Hazel.

To her mother after her lonely walk home, Fran said, "She's always saying 'Wait for me'—and then going off with Hazel or some other girl who asks her."

"It makes you mad, doesn't it?" said her mother. "Then why don't you tell her so? Next time Irma tells you to wait so she can walk home with you, why don't you say, 'No, I won't wait. I never know when you are going to change your mind and decide you want to walk home with somebody else. And I don't like it.'"

Two days later Fran spoke those words to Irma, adding a good many of her own.

As a result, Fran is treated with a lot more respect. Usually, we have to be careful about forcing protest on children. Though we may know that they are being mistreated, we can't make them defend themselves if they are afraid to do it.

Glazed Chintz Is 'Portable' Wall Cover

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Fabrics slip from the sewing machine this spring and head for the walls, where the paste pot and brush convert them to fresh backgrounds for rooms.

Some fabrics are especially processed for use as wall coverings—but not all of them.

Glazed chintz—and you know how many wonderful colors and patterns there are—can be used as successfully for wall coverings as for slipcovers.

One enterprising young homemaker points to an added advantage of chintz—when you move, you can take it with you.

She has rebung the same chintz three times in as many moves, and in various ways. Sharing her experience, she tells how she does it:

Measure the number of yards of material you will need to brighten the wall, or lower portion of a wall in foyer, dinette, or bedroom. Don't forget to allow extra length for pattern repeats.

Powdered wallpaper paste, from the paint store, is mixed according to directions and applied to the walls.

Next, strips of chintz are applied like wallpaper. Mark the base line with a pencil and pull the bottom of the strip gently from the wall, cut with sharp scissors and press it back smoothly.

The glazed chintz dries without spots or lumps, says this gal

WHEN YOU MOVE, or if you wish to use the fabric in a different room, peel it off the wall, she says.

Wash in the washing machine, iron on the right side and the strips are said to be ready for another hanging.

On the walls, glazed chintz is also easy to keep clean. To clean: wring out a sponge and dip in thick suds. Work from the bottom up, on area at a time. Wring a second sponge in Water speeds the passage of suds. It goes through water four and one-half times as fast as through air.

Fresh as spring, lilac-patterned glazed chintz is suitable for both walls and curtains of this dinette. It's hung with wallpaper paste, and can be sponged with suds to clean.

clear water and wipe up the suds, and the soil with them. The trick is to avoid over-wetting the fabric.

YOU'D HAVE TO BE pretty ambitious to use fabric on all the walls of a room, but some types of installations make good sense. In a bedroom, for example, the same pretty print used for the coverlet could be repeated in a dado around the wall.

One such installation finished the dado—lower part of the wall—with a band of cotton ball fringe at the top edge in lieu of the usual molding. A striking fabric pattern may find its way onto an entry or foyer wall. Companion prints, in chintzes where the same colors and motifs are used in slightly different arrangements, also suggest the use of one print for the window and wall and the companion for a slipcovered chair or loveseat.

In addition to chintz, other firm, tightly woven fabrics which are washable and dimensionally stable are used for this purpose.

Foreign Service Vets at Hospital Are Entertained

Hay Rake Pup Tent of the Military Order of Cooties and Cootettes, assisted by the Dads of Foreign Service Veterans, entertained 131 veterans at Warren State Hospital, Saturday evening, with the music of the Dominotes of Warren, and the Tuna Valley Chorus of Bradford. Both these groups are from the Barbershoppers of the two respective towns.

Bradford's singers were Mark Rosen, Herman Hartman, Kimbe Lance, Tony Luzzi, Fred Rossi, Paul Anderson, William McCord, Sr., Homer Tranter, Horace Allison, William Lindstrom, Leon Taylor and Lee Morehouse with Bill Monroe as director. Dominotes were Jim Cruickshank, Bob Dietsch, Howard Johnson and Carl Johnson.

It was indeed "treat night" for the Veterans, who were served a nice luncheon as well as cigarettes, cigars, tobacco, with a generously filled Easter basket for each one. After the program, the Veterans chose magazines from a large selection.

"Back in My Home Town," an original number for and by the Dominotes, made a big hit with the patients.

Axel Nasman, hospital chairman, was accompanied by Cooties Gene Manfrey and Lowell McCann, past Commanders, and Paul Johnson. From the Cootettes were President Blanche Lyle, accompanied by Minnie Townley, Gertrude Fitch, Ann Dunkle, Mary Johnson and Alice Nasman. The Dads of the Warren chapter were represented by Harold Cameron, secretary, Sergeant-at-Arms Merle Gates, Past District of Pennsylvania Chairman Norman Kuhre, Junior Vice Commander William Weaver, Trustee Albert Eichenberg, this group being led by President John J. Casses and Department Hospital Chairman Stanley E. Bullock of Bradford. Mrs. Bullock and Charles H. Phillips, Spanish-American War Veterans, also came over from Bradford. Incidentally, the Dads' district meeting will be held at the local VFW on Sunday, April 5.

As the Vets took their places at the tables each found awaiting him a Saturday issue of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, presented by Carl E. Francolino, 519 Prospect street, the newspaper's local representative.

The large group of patients was moved into the Auditorium under direction of Supervisor Harold Check. The party was in charge of Pete Baxter, Hospital Advisor.

Hollywood News

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why would two British-born movie stars buy and live on a big Arizona ranch 600 miles from their work here?

"It's a wonderful life," said Stewart Granger. "I'd like to stay there and never come back to Hollywood."

We were on the sidelines while Jean Simmons, his wife, laddled out stew to a fellow Roman slave Kirk Douglas for a scene in "Spartacus."

During a break the London-reared lass said of ranching: "I love it. We're up early, out riding, checking over the joint. It's a very full day."

Joint? At my request Granger described their spread:

Ten thousand acres of rolling hills just east of Nogales, five miles of the acreage on the Mexican border. Six-bedroom house, two-bedroom guest house, two-bedroom servants' quarters.

Television "in every room" with three-channel reception from Phoenix and Tucson. A 10-acre lake feeding a five-acre lake stocked with trout. Pool, tennis court. The Santa Cruz River coursing through cottonwoods.

Five hundred head of Charolais beef cattle, a French breed, "all white and enormous." "Seven families who work for us," their 20 children riding to a little red schoolhouse in a bus. Granger's two children by his former marriage—Jamie, 14, and Lindsay, 13, a girl—in boarding school at Tucson, home on weekends.

How much of the work does he do?
"I don't dig a hole, but I say where the hole will go. I run the caterpillar and knock down trees. I love it. The evenings come far too soon."

By auto and airliner they can get from ranch to Hollywood studio in three hours when the wind is right. While here they rent a five-room penthouse apartment. Daughter Tracy, 2½, comes along "with 48 dolls and toy animals for her," Granger said.

1959 Sticker Must Be on by Midnight

Today is the last day Pennsylvania motorists can legally drive their autos without the new 1959 reflecting sticker. The deadline is midnight.

After that, regardless of the reason, motorists who drive without the sticker are subject to arrest and other legal penalties. There are no exceptions, even for those who accidentally threw their stickers away without knowing what they were for or somehow damaged them in trying to put them on their old plates.

The Department of Revenue has made one concession, however. The sticker will be considered legal no matter where confused motorists may have put them on the plate.

Monday, while working in nearby Wilkins Twp., a ditch caved in and buried John Minnaji up to his arms. Other workers dug frantically for 25 minutes and freed him. Rushed unconscious to a hospital, he was dead on arrival.

A good night's sleep restores the energy we expend during the day, giving us the strength necessary to fight off the invading germs and virus that are constantly attacking our body. Inability to sleep is one of nature's warnings of possible approaching sickness.

It is unwise and sometimes even dangerous to repeatedly take sleep-producing remedies without a physician's supervising care. Sleep is needed, but of greater importance is the curing of the cause of sleeplessness. Only a physician has the knowledge to prescribe the proper medication to accomplish this.

Stateline Officials Reveal Opening Date at Meeting

At a recent meeting of owners and drivers of late-model stock cars in Sugar Grove Legion hall, opening date for another outstanding racing season at Stateline Speedway was posted.

The meeting, under co-sponsorship of Stateline and Independent Racing Association, officials said first race is slated for May 9 at 8.30 p. m.

Major topics of discussion were rules and regulations for coming racing season. Various changes in car specifications have been made, including updating of the eligible late-model cars to include years 1956-59 only.

Several changes in safety rules have been brought about by insurance underwriters, most noteworthy is requirement that all race cars carry fire extinguishers while on the track. Lloyd Williams, president of Bush Speedways Inc., operators of Stateline, said that purses for last season amounted to over $33,000 at Bush. Averaging out to just under $1,500 per night, prize money indicated at least one reason for large attendance at pre-race meeting.

Speaking of Sports

Spring activities are in organizational stages now, but most welcomed sight is that of gym show participants readying for their spectacle April 9 and 10 in Beatty gym. Director Hal Miller has added several outstanding acts to the program, already including balancing, dancing and gymnastics. Miller, Phil Putnam, Joe Massa, Ed MacLaughlin and Warren High students in the show are selling tickets—which are limited to 600 for each performance. We'll spot various acts, via Timesphotos, to give some idea to the hard working earnest group in action. Many of the acts to be shown have been absent from the Warren scene for over 15 years. Many older folks, undoubtedly, have never seen the terrific stunts incorporated.

Two Pittsburgh (Pitt) wrestlers entered NCAA Wrestling Tournament in Iowa City over the week. Both were beaten. They were Bill Bubb (144) and Larry Lauchle (123). Both wins were scored by wide margins.

Erie Sons of Italy honored Johnny Bizzaro (again) recently. The club presented Johnny with a stunning wrist watch. Johnny is going nicely in professional ranks. He's expected to fight in Warren, Ohio April 16. Trainer Mike Brady and promoter Don Elbaum were on hand for the presentation.

Fish Commission continue their stocking of County streams in preparing for the opening of trout season shortly. Many waters in the area have been stocked with several more on the list.

Dickinson College in Carlisle reports another successful wrestling season just closed. A member on that squad was Stanley Lindberg, graduate of Warren High. Richard Ayers, Hershey, was selected most valuable member of the team after completing his first year.

There'll be plenty of action and good basketball in local YMCA Saturday evening. A benefit game for Bob Wolfe, Warren All-Stars will go against Farrell area All-Stars. Both squads will be sparked by several outstanding, key players. Tickets are on sale in many local stores for the game.

Yachting will play a major role for first time when Pan-American games are held in Chicago Aug. 27-Sept. 7. Increase in yachting competition is being made possible by United States yachtsmen who are providing boats for contestants from other nations.

To feed riders in six-day bicycle race at 168th Street Armory in New York, promoters provided two tons of meat, 300 dozen eggs, 40 bushels of greens, 720 quarts of milk, 30 cases of apples and 2,100 cans of juices.

Big crackdown in force at Los Angeles Dodgers' home base of Vero Beach: curfew at 11:30 . . . players again standing in chow lines . . . and the explanation by Vice-President Buzzy Bavasi: "If they're going to be a seventh place club, we're going to treat them like seventh-placers."

Penn State athletic director, Ernest McCoy, says that the University "is definitely interested" in becoming a member of a proposed coast-to-coast football conference. The conference reportedly would include Penn State, Pitt, Syracuse, Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Air Force Academy and several west coast schools.

Times-Mirror To Launch A New Weekly Boating Column

A new weekly column on recreational boating, which has become the nation's top family sport, is being launched by Times-Mirror April 6 on these sport pages.

Christened "America Afloat," the column will highlight news about every phase of boating for every boat lover, from the sailorman who skims the local pond in a dinghy to the family that dreams of a vacation cruise on America's inland or coastal waterways.

"America Afloat" is being written for NEA service, world's greatest newspaper feature service, by William Taylor McKeown, editor of Popular Boating, world's largest selling boating magazine.

A noted authority in the boating world, McKeown has sailed and reported on the sport from many parts of the world.

Before starting Popular Boating, McKeown wrote for many other publications in that field and was editor of Outboard said orthopedic consultations are planned.

Williams, defending American League batting champion whose club opens the regular campaign April 10 in New York, insisted there was no reason why he wouldn't be in the lineup at that time.

Later he admitted it might be much longer.

If Dr. Charles A. Fager, a neurosurgeon, and the other medical personnel connected with the case have definite ideas about the time of Williams' recovery, it is a well-kept secret.

They don't say he will be ready April 10. They don't say he won't. Ted appeared affable but worried when he entered the hospital. Since then, the clinical curtain has been drawn.

Sizing Up the Teams

CLEVELAND INDIANS

By CHARLES MAHER
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have swung a lot of deals since last fall, but there's another reason to suspect this could be a changed team.

Pitcher Herb Score is back. Whether the return of this potentially great lefthander will be enough to get the Indians out of the bottom of the first division is unknown. But it seems safe to say he won't be an insufferable burden.

There have been other changes, too: Outfielder Larry Doby, pitchers Ray Narleski and Don Mossi, first baseman Vic Wertz and infielder-outfielder-catcher Earl Averill have been traded. And infielder Billy Martin, outfielders Jim Piersall and Jim Bolger, first baseman-outfielder Tito Francona and pitchers Al Cicotte and John Briggs have been acquired. So where do the Indians stand? "If we've got Score back," said Manager Joe Gordon, "and we can use (Gary) Bell from the start, we're bound to be better."

Score, out most of the last two seasons with injuries, has not been phenomenal in exhibition games. But he's throwing without any pain.

Bell came up last May and won 12 games while losing 10. "He had some bad luck," Gordon said. "He could easily have been 14-5."

Other possible starters include Cal McLish (16-8), Jim Grant (10-11), Don Ferrarese (3-4), Mike Garcia (1-0) and Cicotte (3-1 with Detroit).

Gordon's lineup would include Rocky Colavito and Minnie Miñoso in the outfield and Vic Power at first or third base. If Power plays first, Gordon might use Randy Jackson at third. If not,

Mickey Vernon or Francona could take first. George Strickland is bidding for shortstop along with Woodie Held. At second are Martin and Bill Morna. Russ Nixon should do most of the catching again. Piersall could be used between Miñoso and Colavito in the outfield. Francona also could be played in the outfield. Gordon thinks Boston, Chicago, Detroit and his own club all are a little stronger this year. Next—San Francisco Giants.

NBA Teams Look To High Schools for More Stars

CINCINNATI (AP)—The eight National Basketball Assn. members dipped into the ranks of college seniors today and each hoped to come up with another Bob Pettit, Bob Cousy, Bill Russell or Elgin Baylor.

The occasion was the annual player draft meeting which will give each club exclusive rights to bargain with probably 12 to 15 collegians who will be graduated this spring.

Whether they get their names on a contract is another matter and whether they'll make the grade in the tough NBA is still another. Seventeen of the rookies drafted last year made the grade, with Minneapolis Lakers getting the prize in Bay-lor.

Several clubs, including the Philadelphia Warriors, were expected to exercise their territorial rights to players. Such clubs can claim a player from a school within a 50-mile radius but, by doing so, they relinquish their first choice in the regular draft.

Four years ago the Warriors claimed the fabulous Wilt Chamberlain out of high school under a draft rule which since has been abandoned. Now that Chamberlain's Kansas University class is graduating, Ed Gottlieb said they definitely would claim him.

Then it will be up to the Warriors to woo him away from the Harlem Globetrotters with whom he now is playing. Chamberlain gave up his last year of college eligibility to join the Globetrotters.

The Detroit Pistons and the St. Louis Hawks are among others who may exercise territorial rights. St. Louis has covetous eyes on Bob Ferry of St. Louis University and Detroit on John Green of Michigan State and M. C. Burton of Michigan.

After territorial choices, the Cincinnati Royals will have first choice since they had the poorest record during the past season. It appeared likely they'd pick either Bailey Howell of Mississippi State or Bob Boozer of Kansas State.

Most clubs had those players high on their lists.

Powell Win Over Valdez Causes a Shuffle of Ranks

NEW YORK (AP)—Nino Valdez shocking loss to Charley Powell has resulted in a major shuffling of the heavyweight rankings by Ring Magazine.

Valdez, who was ranked second contender behind Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, was dropped to sixth place today.

In a chain reaction, Zora Folley, of Chandler, Ariz., advanced from third to second, British champion Henry Cooper moved up from fourth to third, Philadelphia's Sonny Liston from fifth to fourth, and Briton Brian London from ninth to eighth.

London, the former British heavyweight king who lost his crown to Cooper last January, is scheduled to fight world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson at Las Vegas, probably May 1.

Powell, the former 49ers' football star from San Diego, entered the elite circle in the No. 9 spot. Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., is fifth, Willie Pastrano of Miami Beach, seventh, and Joe Erskine of Wales, tenth.

Dayve Moore, the freshly crowned world featherweight king, was named "fighter of the month" for his title victory over Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria. Bassey was named No. 1 contender.

Ticket Sale at Forbes Field Making History

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Advance ticket sales for the home games of the Pittsburgh Pirates are making Pirate history this year, according to club officials.

The Pirate management said Monday an exact count of the advanced sales was not known but that it was the best ever.

Reserved and box seats at Forbes Field already have been reported sold out for the home opener against Milwaukee April 10. Forbes Field seats, exactly 35,000.

Pirates Backing On Performance Of Kid Pitcher

By ED WILKS

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Pittsburgh's pennant-pursuing Pirates, suddenly matured into a National League power, are stacking quite a few chips on the pitching of George Witt, a kid who originally was signed by the Dodgers as a slugging third baseman.

He's the red-haired, freckle-faced right-hander who became a winner in the minors when he found a curve two years ago, then shrugged off a "m" trouble to compile a 9-2 record with the Bucs last season. That rookie year ended with a 1.61 earned run average, three shutouts (one a two-hitter against Milwaukee) and a seven-game winning streak, longest in the league.

"But I was a real long-ball hitter when I signed," he said. "That lasted until my first year in the minors, in 1950. As a third baseman, I was a butcher. And when they gave me 'Uncle Charlie'—you know, a curve—I wasn't a long-ball hitter anymore. I wasn't any kind of a hitter."

He became a pitcher that first year in the minors, "because I threw hard." After four years he had a 17-22 record and was drafted by Hollywood, a Pirate farm. In 1957, he arrived with an 18-7 record under Hollywood Manager Clyde Kung, now a Cincinnati coach.

"It was King and Bill Burwell, a coach with this club, who helped me on the curve. That's what I've got, a fast ball and a curve."

His fast ball is sneaky fast, looking faster than it really is, coming out of a big motion after the slow curve.

"I don't know what it is about him, but he got us out last year," said Smokey Burgess, the former Cincinnati catcher now with the Bucs. "One time we knew every pitch he was going to throw, but he beat us 1-0."

The Pittsburgh Chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America Monday named Witt the Pirates' rookie of 1958, giving him the nod over slugger Dick Stuart.

Witt will receive the John L. Hannon trophy in ceremonies before the start of the Pirates-Milwaukee game April 12. At the same time, Pirate Manager Danny Murtagh will be tendered the writers' Hovey J. Boyle Memorial Award as the individual who did most for sports in Pittsburgh last year.

Ezzard Loses His Job - Politics or Ring the Blame?

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ezzard Charles, one time king of heavyweight boxers, claims he lost his state job, because of politics.

He said Monday, "everybody knows I'm on the Republican side of the fence. They gave as a reason for firing me that I was continuing to fight."

Charles was hired during a Republican administration. Democrats now control Ohio's statehouse and Legislature.

Charles, a state industrial commission inspector who lectured on safety to youngsters, was discharged last week. The action is effective today.

Commissioner M. J. Pavick said last Friday that because Charles took leave last fall to fight in Texas and Mexico, it was decided he could not adequately give enough time to his state job.

New Association Of Universities Formed in West

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The new Athletic Assn. of Western Universities will take up where the moribund Pacific Coast Conference leaves off in the annual Rose Bowl football game.

Representatives of the new conference—now composed of California, Southern California, UCLA and Washington—agreed Monday to enter into a contract with the Tournament of Roses Assn., sponsor of the New Year's Day game. The agreement will become effective Jan. 1, 1961. It will be an open-end contract—one for which no termination date is fixed.

The Pacific Coast Conference goes out of business next June 30. But its contract with the Rose Bowl organization runs through next Jan. 1, and one of its present members is expected to represent the West in the 1960 games.

Training Camp News

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
A knotty lump arose in the throat of Boston Manager Mike Higgins today as he thumbed through the medical reports on his decorated outfield corps.

Higgins faces the prospect of opening the season without the big bat of Ted Williams, who has entered a hospital for treatment of a neck ailment.

Another outfielder, Gene Stephens, is sidelined with a badly sprained thumb. Jackie Jensen, the American League's MVP, has just returned to the line-up after missing valuable time due to a tooth infection.

Monday, 22-year-old Gary Geiger, hitting sensation of the Boston camp, suffered painful bruises on his neck and right leg in a collision with teammate Don Buddin. Geiger, knocked unconscious for 20 minutes, will be sidelined for several days at least. The Red Sox won the game, defeating Cleveland 6-5.

While Higgins pondered his misfortune, a knowing smile crossed the face of Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney as he checked the reaction to his charges of complacency among the National League champions. Stung by the accusations, the Braves laced 15 hits Monday and broke a three-game losing streak with a 12-2 thumping of St. Louis.

In other games, New York defeated Cincinnati 4-0, Chicago's Cubs clubbed San Francisco 10-8, Detroit beat Los Angeles 8-4, Philadelphia subdued Washington 11-7, Pittsburgh bopped Baltimore 8-4 and Chicago's White Sox nipped Kansas City 5-4.

Bobo Eyes Top-Rated for Next Foe After Calhoun Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bobo Olson, the ex-middleweight champ now boxing as a light heavy, was back in the big time today after a unanimous but hotly disputed decision over Rory Calhoun.

"I'm 30, an old man," Olson said after 10 hard-fought rounds in the Cow Palace, "but I feel like 16." He said his weight, 174½, was just what it should be. Calhoun, a middleweight, weighed 168½.

Olson is planning a month's vacation after his fourth straight comeback victory as a light heavyweight, then wants someone of the caliber of Tony

Two Lane Owners Team in Tourney, Roll 41 Strikes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two St. Louis bowling lanes proprietors who never had paired before in American Bowling Congress competition rolled 41 strikes and took over the lead in the ABC tournament doubles division Monday with a 1372 series.

Barney Vehige, who shot 691, and Gib Fischbach with 681 erased the 38-day lead held by the Gersch brothers of Chicago, Glenn and Bob, with 1316. Vehige hit 22 strikes and Fischbach 19.

The St. Louis All-Star League teammates from the B&B Club paired for games of 425, 481, and 466. Vehige had games of 202, 245 and 244. Fischbach shot 223, 236, and 222.

A change also occurred in the booster team division where the Bubble-Up Club of Havana, Ill., shot 2729 for sixth place. William Dissman led the club with 584.

Venturi Appears Confident He'll Win At Augusta

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Ken Venturi feels he is "ready to pounce" and that's the way he prefers it for the Masters Golf Tournament, opening Thursday.

"Pick a winner? I pick me," the outspoken 26-year-old San Francisco professional said today as the game's elite gathered for the annual assault on the famed Augusta National course.

"I don't say that to be cocky. When I enter a tournament I feel I can win it. In this one, I believe I'm as ready as it is possible to be."

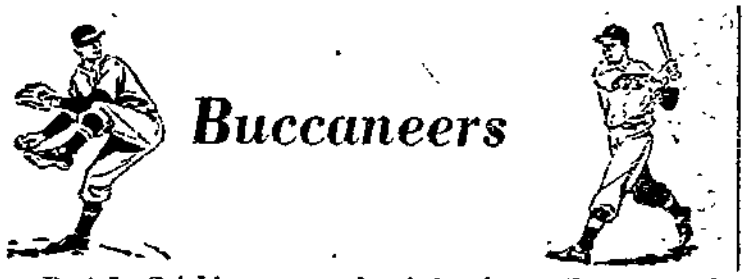

Venturi, who has let two of the last three Masters titles slip from his grasp, has been established as favorite in this 33rd renewal. In 1956 as an amateur Venturi blew through three rounds and then blew to an 80 which dropped the crown into the hands of a surprised Jack Burke. Last year Ken was the halfway leader but faltered. The title went to Arnold Palmer.

"In both instances the 14th was my jinx hole," the slender Californian said. "I think I know how to play the hole this time."

A crack field of international contenders joined such luminaries as Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff in practice. The course was green and lush after two days of rain.

LAKEWOOD MYSTERY
According to an item in the Jamestown Sun the huge muskellunge which decorates signs at the main entrance roads to Lakewood, N. Y., have not been stolen. Mayor Nels Carlson said Monday night last that several persons have called to report the missing fish. To reassure worried residents the mayor said, "The fish have not been lost, strayed or stolen. They have merely been taken down to be cleaned and repainted."

Buccaneers

Part I—Catching
There's a battle royal for first string catching job between veterans Hank Foiles and portly Smokey Burgess, acquired during the winter from Cincinnati, on Pittsburgh Pirates.

Foiles, always highly regarded as a receiver and fine handler of pitchers, had rough sledding in 1958. He was obtained by Pirates in early 1956 in a waiver deal with Cleveland. And immediately won Pirates' catching job. Hank had quite a time with his contact lenses, and an assortment of injuries last season that hurt him considerably.

Burgess, who is known more for his smoking bat and his pinch hitting ability than for his defensive ability, has let everyone know he's out for the first-string job, too. He's a left-handed swinger. Foiles is right-handed. Smokey hasn't caught regularly since joining Cincy three years ago. Pirates' new Coach Jimmie Dykes insists Smokey will do okay. "He knows the league's hitters and his arm isn't as weak as everyone says it is."

Burgess' physical appearance—187 pounds on a stocky 5-8 frame—is against him. But then Yogi Berra has the same chunky look and there's nothing wrong with the way he handles the Yankees staff.

Since Bucs will carry three catchers, battle for third slot will be fought among Danny Kravitz, converted outfielder; Bill Hall, veteran minor leaguer who spent last half of '58 with Pirates and performed well; and rookie Darryl Westfield, who has had only two years of professional baseball experience.

Experts Pick Their Teams for the Stanley Cup; Rough Play Still in

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If determination means much in winning hockey games, you can look for the Toronto Maple Leafs to face the Chicago Black Hawks in the Stanley Cup finals according to their coaches.

The other assorted experts around the National Hockey League are looking for the Montreal Canadiens to meet the Boston Bruins for the cup.

All four clubs take a step in that general direction tonight when the semifinals resume at Chicago and Toronto. The Leafs, down 2-1 to Boston, try to even the series, as do the Hawks, also down 2-1 to Montreal.

The Hawks and Leafs both won last Saturday, which prompted coaches Punch Imlach of Toronto, and Rudy Pilous, of Chicago, to begin talking about the Stanley Cup finals.

The rough play that has characterized the Canadiens-Hawks series will be continued, Pilous said. He has given his team orders to hit hard and try to skate the Montrealers into quick submission.

intervention, declaring the revolt was an internal matter.

Two groups of petitioners called on Nehru—Indian nationals of Tibetan origin and Tibetan nationals who reside in India. Each group of about 100 presented the same requests:

1. India's active support of their demands for the safety of the Dalai Lama.
2. Dispatch of an Indian mercy mission of doctors and nurses to Lhasa to help those wounded in last week's fighting.
3. Assurance that India will immediately refer Tibetan demands for autonomy to the United Nations.
4. Permission for Tibetan refugees to enter India freely.

"Have patience, the trouble is not in Tibet alone," Nehru told the petitioners. "It is part of the whole world's situation. What we need is wisdom, wisdom and patience, and ultimate victory will be yours."

"There is nothing you can do here," he said. "It is better for you to return to your homes. I will do my best."

Nehru told the petitioners he was inquiring into the whereabouts of the Dalai Lama, Tibet's 23-year-old spiritual and political leader.

The Chinese Reds insist Tibetan rebels abducted the Dalai Lama and whisked him off to south Tibet. Refugee circles in India say the ruler fled to escape Communist capture and is now with holdout forces in south Tibet.

The Reds have elevated the rival Panchen Lama in the Mustang ruler's place but indicated they would again make the Dalai Lama head of the local Tibetan government if he returns and collaborates with them.

Petitions Are Rejected by Court

Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. yesterday afternoon, handed down an order dismissing a complaint mandamus brought by William Manning and Robert Beach of Conewango township against the county board of elections, following rejection of a petition seeking a referendum on the wet and dry issue at the May 19 primary election.

The petition had been rejected on the grounds that it had been received after the legal deadline for filing same, the court having now upheld the action of the board of elections. Costs were placed on the two plaintiffs.

Similar actions brought by petitioners in Sugar Grove borough, asking referendum to vote on legal sale of liquor, and in Elk township, where petitioners sought to return to prohibition status, were also dismissed this morning by Judge Flick, with petitioners to pay court costs. Failure of these two petitions to state occupations of the signatories, had brought about rejection by the county election board. Although it was deemed possible to amend the Elk township petition, the court regrettably ruled that such a move would result in recirculating the petition, and full dismissal was ordered.

Conspiracy Trial

HARRISBURG (AP)—Selection of a jury was expected to be completed today in Dauphin County Court for a trial of three men charged with conspiring to cheat the state in cinders sales in Westmoreland County.

Jury selection started Monday after Judge Homer L. Kreider ruled that only two of a total of 18 indictments would be included in the trial. Three jurors had been chosen by the end of the day.

The two indictments charge each of the three defendants with conspiracy to defraud the Commonwealth and false pretenses.

Dist. Atty. Huethe P. Dowling and Alfred Filippone, deputy attorney general, still have 16 other indictments involving cinders sales in Westmoreland and Armstrong counties.

Christine Jorgensen

NEW YORK (AP)—Christine Jorgensen's efforts to obtain a marriage license have been delayed by a technicality, not connected with the fact that she changed her sex.

The delay came Monday when the would-be bridegroom, Howard J. Knox, 33, a Waukegan, Ill., statistician, couldn't produce a copy of an Illinois divorce decree that ended a previous marriage.

As for Miss Jorgensen's sex, which was changed from male to female by surgery in Denmark in 1950, a blood test certificate on which a physician certifies that she is a woman should be sufficient, said City Clerk Herman Katz.

Miss Jorgensen, a former soldier, gave her age as 33 and listed her occupation as an entertainer.

High Court Intervention in Battle Over Niagara Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court may be asked to intervene in the legal battle over construction of a reservoir for a big Niagara River hydroelectric project.

The next step is up to the Federal Power Commission and just what action it will take remains to be seen.

It could ask the Supreme Court to review last week's ruling by the U. S. Court of Appeals which said the reservoir may not be built on 1,383 acres of Tuscarora Indian land.

Or it could ignore this procedure entirely and fix a date for public hearings on an application by the New York State Power Authority to construct the reservoir near Niagara Falls, N. Y., completely outside the Tuscarora reservation.

It could even do both.

"We haven't had time to look into the court's ruling and we don't know what we'll do," a commission spokesman said. "One thing is certain. We'll have to move fast to prevent any stoppage of work at the project."

Last Tuesday the U. S. Court of Appeals refused to reconsider its decision that the New York Power Authority could not use 1,383 acres of Indian land for a reservoir unless the FPC found its use consistent with tribal rights. The FPC says the license as now written constitutes interference.

The court ruling, however, does not rule out use of a smaller portion of Indian land for the reservoir if the FPC finds it consistent with Indian rights.

The commission has said it is interested in the best development of the area's resources and might consider use of a swampy part of the reservation or a 350-acre Indian area where no homes are located.

The New York Power Authority's proposal to build a 45,000 acre-foot reservoir without using Tuscarora land would reduce the power output of the project by 100,000 kilowatts.

Original plans, including use of 1,283 acres of Indian land, called for a reservoir with a 60,000 acre-foot capacity.

Although the FPC has set no date for public hearings on the Power Authority's alternate proposals it did fix April 13 as the deadline for filing protests to it.

New York City Muttering
About Being the 51st State

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Alaska and Hawaii have finally made it into the Union. Anyone for 51?

You bet there is, make way for the little giant.

New York City, in a fit of pique at the way it was treated financially by the Legislature up in Albany, is muttering about going it alone as a separate state. Led by Majority Leader Joseph Sharkey of the City Council and the New York Journal American, the irate burghers at the big mouth of the Hudson dream of tacking a new star on the flag and letting the upstate patrons fend for themselves.

Are they serious?

Why not? From almost any angle, New York City would make a dandy addition to the family circle.

Right off the bat, it would be the smallest state in area, only 315 square miles compared with roomy Rhode Island's 1,214, and the sixth biggest in population, behind California, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and Texas. Divorced from its namesake, New York State would drop from first to eighth, behind the new city-state and Michigan, and it no longer would have to carry on the dreary argument with London over which boasts the largest city, since Buffalo isn't even in the world's top 50.

As a separate state, New York City would be the only one in the Union with more psychiatrists than cows, more banks than barns, more pizza chefs than county agents, more people underground at any given moment than some states have overground, more Italians than Genghis, more Jews than Tel Aviv, and more Irish than Dublin.

It would have the most cops, cab drivers, garbage collectors, school teachers, billion-dollar corporations, bagel bakers, art museums, library books, ocean liner piers, fashion houses, publishing firms, press agents, all-night cafeterias, tunnels, apartment dwellings and skyscrapers.

It would have the fewest trees, bees, prisons, one-family houses, estates, vacant parking spaces, farm subsidies, state forests, golf courses, outdoor privies, game wardens and shaving cream signs.

It would have the most skyline and the least sunlight, the highest incidence of divorce and the lowest of hoof-and-mouth disease, the tallest building and the deepest underwater railroad tube, and its population density, greater than Rhode Island, would make it the Taj Mahal of togetherness.

At rush hour it would take almost as long to get across state as it takes to get across Texas, but you'd have more company.

As a state capital, it would be the biggest in the country and the only one with a world capital (the United Nations) within its borders. City Hall would no doubt prove inadequate for a capitol building, but there's always Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall and the Fun House at Coney Island.

It would be a great state to visit, but you wouldn't want to live there. Nobody does, it's too crowded.

Gal in Cockpit of Jet Airliner
Here's Woman's-Eye View of Piloting Boeing 707

EDITOR'S NOTE: NEA Service Staff Writer Mary Kay Flynn, who presents in the following dispatch a woman's-eye view from the controls of a jet airliner, is no jet-age neophyte. An aviation enthusiast, she got her first taste of prop-less flight in an Air Force T-33 jet trainer two years ago, when she was allowed to try her hand at the controls while actually airborne.

BY MARY KAY FLYNN
NEA Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(NEA)—They told me I was the first woman to "fly" the 550 m.p.h. Boeing 707 jetliner. So I "took off" from the eighth floor of a building here and landed atop Cloud Nine.

Although I piloted an electronic simulator which duplicates the cockpit of the big jet, the flight was like the real thing. The exhilarating sensation of being in the air was unmistakable. From take-off to touchdown, all flying conditions were realistically duplicated, including cockpit motion, tire screech and landing gear impact noise.

The simulator is used an average of 18 hours daily to train TWA flight crews as an introductory part of their training for commercial jet service. It costs $85 an hour to operate the simulator and $1,200 an hour for the actual 707 jetliner being used here for training purposes.

Supposedly, it is somewhat simpler to fly a jet airliner than a prop-type airliner. Could be. But to one accustomed to the downright rudimentary dash-board of an aging automobile, it seemed at first that a pair of whirling eyeballs would be required to follow this massive jet's computer-activated instrument panel.

In the first officer's seat at my right, TWA Capt. Ray F. Rowe, system director of flight training, calmly got the 707 into the air on my mythical flight. No frenzied battle with switches, handles and buttons even though there normally is a crew of three. Within minutes after soaring away from a "disappearing" runway projected on a television screen in front of the simulator, I thrilled to the imaginary experience of cruising over 500 miles per hour on the fringe of the stratosphere. Except for very little vibration and noise, the take-off was much like that experienced on actual four-engine piston plane flights.

After simulating failure of one engine, the jet flew along smoothly, creating only slight flight problems easily corrected.

I was cautioned to watch the Mach indicator. Had the maxi-

Plan Health Insurance For Mental Illnesses

NEW YORK (AP)—Group Health Insurance Inc. is going to offer coverage for mental illness to 30,000 subscribers as an experiment.

The two-year experiment is being made with a $300,000 grant from the National Institute for Mental Health, according to an announcement Monday by Arthur H. Harlow Jr., president of the nonprofit insurance agency.

Most health insurance programs do not provide insurance against the cost of treatment for mental illness.

The 30,000 subscribers, selected from Group Health's regular subscribers, will be covered for 30 days of hospital care for mental illness, and for psychiatric treatment of various types in doctors' offices.

Princess Grace Is at Geneva for Operation

GENEVA (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco arrived by plane today from Nice, France, with her husband, her parents and her American doctor. She proceeded to Lausanne where she is expected to have an appendectomy.

The former movie queen will be operated upon in the Lausanne Cecil Clinic.

Dr. James A. Lehman, a Philadelphia surgeon, will perform the operation Wednesday with Dr. Jean-David Buffat of Lausanne assisting.

Banking this jet, with its maximum gross weight of 248,000 pounds, took more wrist power, I discovered, than the same operation performed in an Air Force T-33 jet trainer two years ago.

At 400 m.p.h. the T-33 responded to the slightest touch of the stick. An easy push to the left and the left wing tipped, the bank allowing a panoramic view of a city in miniature.

But the control force required on the 707 jet's wheel was firmer and heavier. A twist of my 5 1/2-inch wrist and hydraulically operated spoilers atop the wings raised to help bank the plane to one side or the other. Raised on both sides simultaneously by movement of the speed brake, control lever, the spoilers acted, as brakes, noticeably slowing our speed.

Having seen a film on the speed of sound in a classroom training session prior to our "flight," I wondered while flying at 35,000-foot altitude: "If the speed of sound is 760 miles per hour at sea level but drops to about 660 miles per hour at the altitude at which we are flying, would my midwestern drawl come through even more slowly if this were an actual flight?"

Later I conducted that experiment more than seven miles in an actual jet flight—as a plain cabin passenger. The conditions for testing were ideal. The cabin of a 707 is quiet—and I am not. And the jet age didn't change me one bit.

Cancer Control Month Proclaimed By the Governor

April has been officially proclaimed "Cancer Control Month" in Pennsylvania by the Honorable David L. Lawrence, Governor of the Commonwealth. In his proclamation, which follows that of the President of the United States and the United States Congress, Governor Lawrence said that the hope of cancer lies in research which covers the whole spectrum of science. He said, "I do hereby proclaim April as Cancer Control Month, and urge my fellow citizens to support the efforts of science to eradicate this dread disease."

The proclamation was signed and presented to Catherine Macfarlane, M. D., Honorary President of the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Cancer Society, and to J. Winslow Smith, M. D., President of the Pennsylvania Division. Doctor Macfarlane has been active in the medical fields for a great many years and has been duly honored by members of her own profession and lay persons alike, including a program devoted to her life by Ralph Edwards several years ago.

Dr. Smith resides in Ardmore and has served on the Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Division of the American Cancer Society, as well as the President of his Unit, the Delaware County Unit. Both physicians made the trip to the capital especially for the signing.

Following a copy of Gov. Lawrence's Proclamation WHEREAS, The month of April 1958, has been proclaimed Cancer Control Month by the President of the United States, by direction of an Act of Congress; and

WHEREAS, The fight against cancer is making real progress through research work, better treatment methods and earlier detection of the malady; and

WHEREAS, The hope for a cure lies in research work, which covers the whole spectrum of science and which requires funds to finance its efforts if it is to grow; NOW, THEREFORE, I, David L. Lawrence, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby proclaim the month of April 1959, to be Cancer Control Month for Pennsylvania, and I urge my fellow citizens to support the efforts of science to eradicate this dread disease.

GIVEN under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this twenty-fifth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-nine, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and eighty-third.

David L. Lawrence
Governor

Post Office Display Violates Regulations

BALTIMORE (AP) — The post office display of three big colored postage stamps turned out to be too colorful.

The art department proudly exhibited them in the main lobby. They commemorated events in Alaska, the Arctic and Oregon.

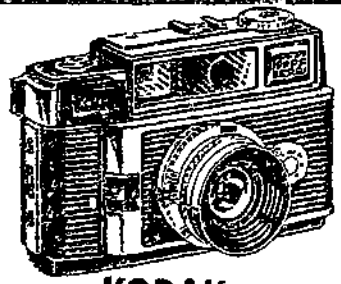

But the spotlight display Monday caught the eye of John H. Hanly, head of the Secret Service office here. He reminded postal officials that federal regulations prohibit colored illustrations of postage stamps.

That canceled the stamps, which will be redone in black and white.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks bachelors get tired of hearing—or overhearing:

"When are you going to settle down, Harry?"

"He's so set in his ways no woman could stand him now."

"Hypothetically speaking, I think big weddings are just a waste of money, don't you, Harry?"

"Poor thing. Someone ought to take him home and give him a good meal for a change."

"What does he do with all his money? After all, he doesn't have anyone to spend it on."

"Harry, I know just the girl for you."

"It's funny, Harry, you're the only one of the old bunch still single."

"Harry, I hate to bother you at four in the morning, but have you seen my husband?"

"Remember, Harry, if my wife calls, we were playing poker at your place last night."

"Son, when I was your age, mother and I had three children."

"It may be just a mother's intuition, son, but is she good enough for you?"

"Sure, Harry, you've got a nice apartment of your own, a sports car, a swell job, a different date every night, and you're your own boss—but what does it all add up to?"

"Sure, Harry, she's got three kids, but look at it this way—you'd have a ready-made family."

"I'm glad you like the dress, Harry. I made it myself. I just love to cook and sew."

"Hypothetically speaking, don't you think a girl ought to give up her job when she gets married, Harry?"

"Don't invite anyone for Harry. I'll help the party to have an extra man around."

"Hypothetically speaking, I think two people can live as cheaply as one if they really love each other, don't you, Harry?"

"Harry, where do you hide during Leap Year?"

"Hypothetically speaking, what qualities do you think a fellow looks for in a wife, Harry?"

TV REVIEW

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — An interesting entertainment idea tried to blossom on the television screen Monday night with "America Pauses For Springtime" on CBS-TV.

Using film, tape and live cameras, producer Barry Wood and his staff broke out of the studio walls and ambled around America with a variety of entertainers against a variety of actual scenes.

The concept was big and imaginative. Why it did not come off for me personally I'm not exactly sure. Perhaps an American spring is too big and complex to encompass in an hour of television.

I enjoyed Marge and Gower Champion dancing in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park, Herb Shriner wandering around the hamlet of Coosue, Ind., the West Point choir and the Air Force chorale.

Suddenly, when Genevieve appeared singing a French song in a Louisiana swamp, I wondered what in the world she was doing there.

Spring, delightful season though it is, simply failed to hold together a diffuse program.
